

Grandparents Raising Grandchildren picnic

Father Christmas with the children at the GRG picnic

The group Grandparents Raising Grandchildren (GRG) had their annual Christmas function in Kowhai Park from 11am to 1pm last Saturday, December 10. Thanks to the Lions Club the children were able to travel on the Toy Town Train for two hours for free. The Lions also provided free ice creams and lollies.

One Lions Club member went one step further. Mike Boag brought along a bouncy castle and a golf putting game and to cap it off, he returned as Father Christmas.

Organiser Jenny Morton, co-ordinator for GRG, helped by Kathy Lloyd, was very grateful for how Lions willingly and generously helped out.

For those grandparents bringing up their grandchildren, who would like to be part of the group and have access to advice and support through the GRG Trust, contact Jenny on 027 443 7780.
